

Question 22. With regard to requests 19 through 21 above, provide any user manuals, guides, training documents, or other documents needed or helpful for the EPA to understand and use the software or modeling package that you used to generate the model runs or other responsive documents produced.

IPSC did not use any “production costing modeling” as defined in Question 19 during the years 2000-2005 other than what was provided in response to Question 19.

This response was prepared by IPSC employee Jerry Hintze.
